- Two broad circumferential grooves on inner tread(sea/land ratio:26.5%) paired with larger angle of groove side wall and round groove bottom angle(see sketch A) can provide excellent drainage efficiency and further enhance wet performance.

- Outside tread shoulder design resembling slick racing tire can supply lateral grip for ensuring excellent handling ability when ultimate driving on cornering on and off the track.

Micro circumferential groove design on intermediate tread contributes to heat dissipation when aggressive driving.

- Optimized profile design(see sketch B) increases tire contact patch and further enhances grip performance.

- New cap compound with increased heat generation(fast help to reach operating temperature) can promote dry and wet grip performance.

- New sidewall compound with unique fibers can enhance stiffness, supply excellent supporting ability and lower heat generation.
