VICTORIOUS AROUND THE WORLD

SAMCO SPORT is the world leader for performance silicone hoses, having been the number one choice for premier global motorsport teams, tuners and modifiers for well over a decade. SAMCO SPORT has been victorious across multiple race disciplines both on and off track, and with both production and prototype formulas.

▶ PERFORMANCE YOU CAN FEEL

Whilst SAMCO SPORT hoses undoubtedly look cool, they are primarily designed to give your car a performance advantage over OEM/Stock hoses and they do this in a number of different ways. In addition to saving weight, they are made from high-grade European silicone which offers much better stability at the high operating temperatures and pressures encountered during racing. Additionally, flow rate and heat transfer to the radiator can be improved whilst expansion and deformity under load is reduced. Finally, durability from road and track debris and crash resistance are massively increased – in fact, SAMCO SPORT hoses are guaranteed for life.

As a performance upgrade you won't find another bolt on component which offers the same 'bang for your buck'.
